

TALAYNA MOANA NIKORA

Having completed three years of full-time acting, theatre and vocal training at the Actor's College of Theatre and Television, Talayna is currently tailoring her craft with a part-time 'Acting for Camera' course at the National Institute of Dramatic Art.

With a background entrenched in the film industry and stunt world, Talayna has a firm grasp on the demands of physical performance. Graded as a Stunt Action Person in 2009, Talayna continues to develop her already impressive and varied skill set, including (but certainly not limited to): gymnastics and trampolining (both at state and national levels); kick-boxing, capoeira and tae kwondo; stage combat training and sword play (on going); trapeze and tissue training, and advanced driving. Additionally, Talayna is an accomplished dive master and dancer and is also working on developing her singing voice.

Talayna's constant evolution and development as a performer is supplemented by a huge amount of on set experience, vast beyond her years. She has worked on a number notable Australian and International film productions in roles varying from Stunt Performer to Assistant Director.

Her passion for performance and film, combined with her range of ability and experience, make Talayna a promising up-and-coming fixture in the Australian film and theatre industry.
